FAMILY & COMMUNITY SERVICES

Our aim is to assist any individual or family, irrespective of social, religious or financial background. Our services have three functions:

- to help prevent problems occurring within families,
- to assist families who are undergoing conflict, and
- to provide educational programs and counselling.

COUNSELLING SERVICES

Relationship and family issues including family separation, personal counselling, child counselling, domestic violence and ACCESS. The ACCESS program is an employer sponsored confidential counselling service.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

These services reflect the community, government and church working together; Care & Concern, Child Care Services, Community Development, Indigenous Community Development and the Cannon Hill Family Support Centre.

RELATIONSHIP EDUCATION SERVICES

Preparing for and participating in relationships and family life requires many skills. Our education section provides educative programs in a number of areas including Pre-Marriage Education, Marriage and Relationship Enrichment, PACE - Parenting Adolescents, Parent Education courses including Hey Dad - a Parenting program for men, right through to Natural Family Planning & Adult Bereavement Workshops.

For more information on the above services and workshops contact any of our branches on:
